Congress Determines We Shall Build 15 Cruisers Within Three Years.

By EDWARD W, PICKARD

Distributing the wishes of President Coolidge and defiantly rejecting the demands of the powerful lobby of church and peace organizations, the senate passed the fifteencruiser bill with the time limit clause included. The senators-with the exception of twelve who voted in the negative-decided that fifteen cruttern and one airplane entrier were necessury to the national defense, and that those vessels must be built within a set time. The pirplane carrier and five cruisers must be begun before July 1 next, five more cruise, a before July 1, 1030, and the remaining five before the middle of 1631. The Pres-Ident and the lobby mentioned wished the time limit clause left out, and the lobby made an unsuccessful attempt to have the number of cruisers reduced

The twelve senators who voted against the bill were: Black (Dem., Ala.), Boroh (Rep., Idaho), Brookhart (Rep., Iowa), Burton (Rep., Oblo), Dill (Dem., Wash.), Ernzier (Rep., N. D.), McMaster (Rep., S. D.), Norris (Rep., Neb.), Nye (Rep., N. D.), Shipatend (Farmer-Labor, Minn.) Thomas (Dem., Okla), and Wolste

The house bill was amended, at the of Mesouri, by the adoption of a clause declaring "that the congress favors a treaty or treattes with all the principal maritime nations regulating the conduct of belligerents and neutrais in wor at ses, farluding the inriolability of private property thereon," and that "such treaties he negotlated, if practically possible, prior to the meeting of the conference on the limitation of armaments in 1931."

Two days later the house concurred in the senate amendments without sending the measure to conference and thus a plan of the pacifists to fillbuster on a conference report was trustrated The bill went to the President and ti was expected be would also it desults ble dislike of the time limit clause. THAT $24,000,000 additional appro-- printion for prohibition enforcement, which the house rejected in de-nance of orders from the Anti-Saloon league, was the death of the deliciency supply bill to which it was attached as a rider. The conference committee could not reach an agreement on this item and it was admitted that the bill would be allowed to die. House leaders made plans to include the more urgent appropriations in a second deficiency bill, and thereupon the drys, mostly those from the South, came forward with the statement that they would not abandon the fight. Senator Harris of Georgia, anthor of the $24, 000,000 amendment, asserted he would offer the same proposal as an amendment to every appropriation bill still to come before the senate.

CARDINAL GASPARRI, papat secdiplomatic body accredited to the Vatican that the Holy See and the Italian state had reached an agreement that ends the estrangement between them which has existed since 1870. On Sunday the pact was signed. It is a twofold treaty, one part dealing with conciliation between church and state and the other part composed of three sections, containing a concordat regulating the future relations between the Holy See and the Italian kingdom.

In the agreement the Vatican has subordinated claims to added temporal power to recognition of its principles of moral law in Italy.

Various concessions are made the church by the Italian state relating to the power of the pope in the Vatican area. Regurded as, even more lmportant than these, however, is the agreement of the Italian government to do its utmost to secure observance of the church's canon law throughout Italy. The canon law, codification of which was completed only in 1027, contains 2,414 canons, or rules, regulating faith, morals, conduct and discipline of church members. ## Battlefield Gives Up Secrets of the Past

There are certain kinds of armor vilch we read about but have never seen because up till now no examples were to be found in museums. Recently, however, many specimens have been found in two great pits outside the old city of Visby in the Island of Cotland.

In 1261 Cotland was invaded by ling Vuldemar at the head of a powerful Danish army, and a desperate battle was fought before Visby. The valiant defence of the Gotlanders was all in vain, and Valdemar marched into the capital leaving nearly two thousand friends and foes dead on the field. They were buried hurrledly, with weapons still in the wounds, in two great graves which have not been disturbed for five and a half cen-

Recently a Swedish archeologist has been excavating the pits, with their trensure of medieval armor and their poor bones marked by axes and arrows. The Swedish and Danish governments will erect a monument where so many men died gallantly because Valdespar wanted to plunder Gotland.

Chicago's Liberty Bell

The Columbian Liberty bell was cast nt the foundry of the Mencely Bell company, Troy, N. Y., in 1893, and welghed 13,000 pounds, the alumeter ut lts mouth being 88 inches and its height 75 inches, it was a duplicate of the new liberty bell that was placed in the tower of Independence hall, Philadelphia, in 1870, and was cast from the same molds. Each thousand pounds represented one of the thirteen original states. The exact cost of the bell is unknown, the records no longer being available. The bell was bought by a committee representing patriotic societies of which the late W. O. McDowell of Newark, N. J., was chairman. At the conclusion of the Chicago World's fair the bell was exhibited in various cities; throughout the United States.

of American Builders While slding and shingle exterior coverings for homes dld not strictly originate in this country being largely modifications of existing methods brought over by the early settlerartisans, the availability of the materials and suitability to native archiectures give houses sheathed in sining or sliingles a distinctly American Houses covered with rough heyn siding boards, or clapbourds, and crudely split shakes, or shingles, directly succeeded the first log cabing of the early colonists in this country. These materials have been refined by improved methods of manufacture into types which are individually approprinte to the cariations of modern colonial architecture and to the architectures of other countries in Amerfran adaptations.

Cedar and pine and other durable untive woods are used in modern manufacture of shingles and siding, which are frequently stained to enhance their uppearance and resistance to weather. Wood siding and shingles. have integral insulating value in themselves, increasing comfort and fuel economy in the winter and keeping the house cool in summer.

Wedding "Gifts" Once

Held Legal Obligation By a wedding custom common in the British isles until the early part of the Kineteenth century, the couple sent out invitations in which presents were solleited from those who accepted the bidding. More strange, these solicited gifts were regarded in the light of fields to be puld back by the couple. On the eve of the west ding the groom received at his house presents of maney, cheese, butter and entitle from his friends, and the helds received similar gifts at her house from her friends. An account of enely gift and the giver was kept in writing by the clerk of the wedding and the presents then became debts, which has some cases were transferrable or as algnable to other nersons. In other words these wedding gift-debts were repayable upon demand at any time and upon refusal, recoverable at law

It was in Scatland, however, where a wedding became a real business event. At their "penny weddings" of the last century the expense of the marriage was defrayed not by the couple or their friends, but by the guests all of whom pald something -or stayed away.-Detroit News.

THERE ARE THOSE WHO'LL SAY "IT'S ALL A LOT OF BALONEY"

Almost every honest endeavor to induce people to DO something for their community is branded by certain types of individuals as hot nir, bunk, honey and "It's all a lot of baloncy." The fellow who starts whispering, "Tie it outside," when THINKING residents talk about the value of 'Iboosting' is usually the fellow who goes outside the record regarding the truth when makthe Citizen must be signed, although ing conversation about himself. Such people are so sugressed in their own the name of the contributor need not littleness that they cannot grasp the BIONESS of COLLEGIVE THINK-

> The greatest service anyone can do for his community is to THINK about it. Let everyone think a community is GOOD and it WILL be-not overnight-not in a month-nor perhaps even in a year. But THINKING West Bethel it is good will create and cause ACTION that will gradually and surely Bryant Pond MAKE it good. On the other hand, think your town is NO good and it will be just that and nothing different!

> > THINKING about these things that will improve your community is not a DITY-it's BUSINESS; therefore, it isn't a question of why you should but why SHOULDN'T you be a booster?

A booster is one who supports his town enthusiastically-one who gets BEHIND and PUSHES vigorously, consistently and PERSISTENTLY, The other fellow gets in PRONT and leans BACKAVARD, or gets in the road making it tough going for the PUSHERS, /-

A booster is an optimist and a joy-maker; he is not a cynic nor i

A booster cheers; he never jeers, sucers, or hisses.

A bagster sticks up for his community; he never turns his nose up at it

A booster gives every felice a "break"; he never "dishes the dirt," A booster says, "1" II do it for the good of the community"; not, "What

A booster is a POSITIVE quantity. a KICKER is a NEGATIVE minus. A booster pushes and goes AHEAD, a KICKER balks, stands still and never gets anywhere.

A booster, instead of saying, "It's all a lot of baloney," says, "There may be something in that," and then THINKS about it. You are the one to decide on which side of the fence you are going to be.

L'Enfant Planned Open

Space in Washington "Mall", was originally the name of the mallet used in playing pall-mall n game in which a ball was driven with a mailet. In time "mail" was applied to the game itself, and by extension to the place where the game was played. Thus Pall-Mall (pronounced pell-mell), a famous street in London, received its name from the fact that the site was formerly a pullmall alley. In the United States "The Mail" is applied specifically to a strip or land lying between the capital and the Washington monument. It is mounded on the east by the capital graunds, on the south by Maryland greene and B Street Southwest, on the north by Pennsylvania avenue and B Street Northwest, and on the west Seventeenth street. It includes the botunic garden. East Senton West Senton park, Henry para. Smithsonian grounds, ugriculinial grounds and the monument grounds, in the original plans pre pared by the French engineer, Likh faul, and approved by Washington. the Mall was to be 1,000 feet wide and was to present an unobstructed vista from the monument to the cap Hol. This plan was departed from, and there are now a number of buildings on the Mall. L'Enfant did not use the name "Mail" on his maps of Washington. On the original Lien fun map, as well as on the maps of 1792 and 1822, this area is designated "Appropriation No. 2." After those dates the name "Mall" appears reguluris in connection with the area in question.-Pathfinder Migazine.

the million of western days are con carly considered the most intelli gent and agreeable of all the millions in the close populated Island. The varied and radiant bues of their rat ment, the adornment of finger and ankle and welst, the true artistry of un occasional batik "sorong" lend them a pleturesqueness unknown to the simpler garned Tabitian. Along the wayside everywhere they are grouped in a colorful multitude, for this is Surday morning, and the Dutch see to it that Sunday is, as far as possible, a day of rest in Java.

Earliest "God's Houses"

It is curious to find a clergyman put ting forward the view that the title "the Land's House," applied to churches, was originally given to them beenuse lords of the manor held courts there. This appears in a book about n remote Kent purish, All Hallows Hoo. It is certainly true, as the au thor contends, that churches in pre-Reformation days were more like vil tage balls. Plays were neted in then and localries of any kind held; some times valuables were stored there. Bur they were to the people God's houses even more than they are now.

London Has Right to

Be Proud of Big Ben One of the most conspicuous structures in London is the tower of the houses of parliament that rises high above the payement near Westminster abbey and the neighboring River Thames and seems to watch from its great height all the many activities of the largest city in the world. The inside of this tower contains a staircase of 300 steps and when one has climbed to the top one is in the room contain ing the mechanism of one of the larg est clocks in the world, the clock known as Big Ben, and which has marked time for London for many a It is impossible to understand the size of this giant of a clock as one stands on the ground, but if one mens ures its four faces one finds them to be 23 feet across, which means a distance equal to that of four average men standing on each other's heads The minute lands are 14 feet long; they would reach higher than an av erage room. The swinging pendulum weighs nearly 500 pounds. The fig ures on the faces are each two feet long and the minute spaces are a foot square. While the minute hand of your little watch jumps in very small spaces, the minute hand of Big Ben jumps a foot at a fime.

Watermelon From Africa

The truditional appetite of the col ored mun for watermelon is due to the fact that be acquired his fondness for the watermelon in the land of his origin, Africa where they are found today growing wild. That water melons were grown by the ancien Egyptians is proved by numerous paintings as well as carvings on mon uments. The fruit was probably in troduced into England some time in the Sixteenth century.

According to Muster Graves, It abounded in Massachusetts in 1020. only nine years after the landing of the Pilgrims. The Indians lost little time in adding the watermelon to their list of cultivated plants. In 1664 the Florida tribes were cultivate ing it in their fields of maize, and nine years later Father Marquette found the Western tribes growing wa termelons.

Bird Made Much Trouble

When telephone service suddenly stopped between Melbourne and Albury, Australia, says the Pathfinder Magazine, a long, careful search re venled that the cause of the trouble was a magple. This busy bird had bullt a nest on the top of a pole-n nest 14 Inches neross and about 8 inches deep. The size of the nest would not have mattered, but evi dently intent on making the new home durable and solld. The magple had used several pleces of wire which had been snipped off and left on the ground by reputr men. One of the pleces of wire was in contact with two wires of the line, which unturally caused a short elreult and stopped the

Gratitude

The wise old tir Sumuel Johnson once said: "Grafftude is a fruit of great cultivation. You do not and it among gross people." Observations will convince you that this is true, at least la some degree. Cheap or course people are usually lacking in a sense of grafftude. They are likely to be the sorts who carry chips on their shoulders, brag that the world owes them a living, boast of accomplish ments for which they are not respon sible. Lacking a sense of apprecia tion of most good things, they natural ly lack a sense of appreclation of what others have done for them .- Grove Patterson, in the Mobile Register.

.Wisconsin farmers have erected a throughout the Mid-West a generation ago as an expert whittler in wood. He helped farmers throughout the world by inventing the first machine to tle sheaves of grain automatically. According to Farm and Fireside, Appleby was eighteen years old when flu, he whittled his way to faine by his invention. He had grown tired from bending to bind grain by hand in a Wisconsin harvest field, and so he spent an evening "dreaming" of a machine which would do this work. He whittled our a model of his invention, which he perfected in 1858. It is

Tent Within a Tent

"Several winters ago I became ac qualited with a method of winter camping which I believe was, and is, just about as ingenious as one would expect to meet with in many a moon," writes Robert Page Lincoln in Forest and Stream. "A trapper showed me the talek. It involved the use of two wall tents. The one tent as I remember it, was nine by claven while the other was twelve by fourteen. The smaller tent was creeted inside of the larger tent. A good job had been done of pegging down and stretching hoth of these tents. The result was that the outer tent was a windbreak par excellence and that even in the coldest winter wenther the inside was well protected, the camp stove, a box affair, keeping an even temperature

State Secrets Hidden

by Absorbent Roller

Every foreign office in Europe acts. on the theory that un army of splesis constantly on the alert to steaf its secrets, and infinite precautions are taken to baffle their efforts. Very shortly after the first use of blotting paper it was discovered that it was quite possible to cause a blotting pad to give up secrets by simply holding it in front of a mirror. Long after all the commercial world had forgotten the existence of such a thing, the Britisb foreign office used a sundshaker to dry its important written documents, of which there are still many despite the use of the typewriting machine. Then specialty manufactured black blotting paper was used. but this was not found to be absolutely spyproof and a return to the sandshaker was contemplated when some one suggested the simple expedient of a small absorbent roller. These rollers have since been used for drying diplomatic documents. When such p roller has been run up and down and across a document once or twice, the cleverest spy to the world is at liberty to try his hand at deciphering the in-

THAT IT COSTS to govern us

By PROP. M. H. HUNTER 1000 Dept. of Economics, Univ. of Illinois

The Cost of Governmental Protection

NINETY-EIGHT per cent of federal expenditures for protection! This wan the percentage reached during the World war, but of course ft is not always to great. The federal government has always assumed the role of providing protection ugainst energies from without. This is accomplished through the maintenance of the army and navy. The Item for protection ocntes are drunk- curs in the budgets of both states and cities, although it is relatively unimportant among state expenditures.

In the federal calimates for 1028, more than $700,000,000 are allowed his acquaint- for the War and Navy departments. auces, and if you Not only must the actual expenditure happen to be for the army and navy be considered coming home late at night and as costs of defense, but such expendsiumble upon some one leading a half ltures as those for interest, pensions, to be Prait. When a group of young these ftems makes about 85 per cent of the federal budget.

Even in our most penceful years expenditures for protection have with insufficient flunnelal resources claimed a large share of the total, in 1570 they were over 80 per cent of who is telephoned and who fixes the the total; in 1890 more than 72 per analter with the authorities and acis cent, be 1800, when war was farthest the good Sumaritan generally. There from our thoughts, out of a total neems to be no one else in town who per capita expenditure by the federal government of $1.75 only $1.70

The item of protection is much less In the expenditures of states than in those of cities, being less than 0 per when it is intimated that his characcent of the total in states and about 25 per cent of the total in cities. The large expenditures in cities goes for the maintenance of fire and police departments. The other items, such as food inspection, weight inspection and regulation of markets are of relatively little importance. The protective services of the states are rendered in the regulation of such in stitutions as banks, insurance comand of the sale of such commodities na seeds, trees, and fertilizers.

The expenditures of the different states for protection vary greatly in different parts of the United States. In the New England group the per capita expenditure is about 70 cents; in the east south central group about 15 cents. In Nevada the per capita expenditure is about $1,20 while in Georgia it is but a little more than 10 cents.

City expenditures for protection also vary greatly, although it is generally true that the per capita, expenditures are larger as the population increases (C. 1928, Western Newspaper Union )

Arthur's "Round Table" The table which is now called "The Round Table of King Arthur" is to to be seen in the Great hall at Winchenter, England, part of the old enstle there. At the west end of this hall, above the remains of the royal A cordial invitation is extended to doin, houge this table, 17 feet in diamorganizations to visit mostings when the Thirteenth century and is possibly older, and was repainted in the reign of Heary VIII. Of course there is no way of tracing any connection of King Arthur and his knights with this table. This table is divided off into places for the king and 24 of ble Luights. According to one version of the King Arthur legends, there were 13 seats around the table, while no of King Arthur was 140.

No Complete Leisure

Even for Richest Man Some one wrote the other day of a man who has leisure twenty-four hours every day. There is, of course, no such man. Combine the hours a man needs for enting, sleeping, dressing, cleaning bluself up, selecting the food and clothing be needs, cutting bis finger and toe nalls, locking after his fires, making duty calls on kin and neigh bors and receiving their calls, cutting his coupous and checking up his bank account (providing he has all the money he wants, which no man ever had in history); grumbling about the nulsances in his neighborhood (a dog in mine in annoying twenty-four hours every day; is it any wonder I devote some time, also, to cursing those persons who say a dog is man's best friend?) and he will have pleaty to do. Ever so often he must take his nutomobile to be looked over; and once a month his bills must be checked up and paid. Then there is his income for Panama Canal? tax to pay; 'the call of the assessor; there are frequent visits to the dentist—a rich man supposed to have nothing to do may be the busiest man in town.-E. W. Howe's Monthly.

Working Principle of

Explosive Engine Old The basic idea of the explosive engine was conceived long before the appearance of steam. In 1680, Huygens described an explosion motor which was to be operated by discharging a quantity of powder to drive the air out of a cylinder and raise the piston. To that point, his engine relied on a force somewhat similar to the working principle of those today, but the useful work was to be done by the piston being forced down by the pressure of the atmosphere against it. thus lifting a weight or doing some other task. There is no record that this engine ever was operated. The steam engine of 1705 functioned on about the same plan, that is, steam was used to lift the weight of the ley. platon, and after this was done, the atmospheric pressure was relied upon for the real work. After Huygens, almost 100 years passed before inventors caught the vision of rotary motion from their engines. His idea simply involved a piston and a cylinder.

Too Complicated Mother was trying to teach little

Sophia the meaning of fractions. "Suppose," she asked, "I cut an ap ple into halves, how many pleces would I have?"

That was easy for Sophia. "Two." she answered.

"Now, if I cut the apple into quar ters how many pieces would I have? Sophia thought a minute and, care fully counting on her fingers, gave the correct answer.

"Very good," sald mother. "That's what fractions are."

Sophia was not satisfied, bowever After a few moments she came back "If you cut on apple into they salps." slic wanted to know, pleces would there be?"

Mother thereupon decided to leave the lesson in fractions to teacher.

Once There Was a Merchant

Who never paid much a ttention to the salesmanship of modern advertising. When he did write an advertisement, which was seldom, he said in it, John Smith Keeps Everything. Bring us your Produce.

Of course the advertisement did not bring any business. It would have been a wonder if it had. It was but natural that John Smith should come to feel that it did not pay to advertise.

One day there came to his store, a bright, young fellow seeking employment. He was given a job sweeping out and sprouting potatoes. One day while the proprictor was home with the flu, the young clerk wrote a new ad and had it inserted in the place of the old standing order which had run so long the type was well nigh worn down. The ad was filled with sound, modern salesmanship and told in an interesting and attractive way of the store's merchandise, its' quality, desirableness and the price.

When John Smith read it, he almost got up out of hed and came down to the store-but his wife, who always had had more sense than he, would not let him.

The ad brought the business and the result was that the potato sprouting job was turned over to someone else and there was a new ad writer at Smith's store.

CHAPTER II.—After a narrow escape from irretrievable disaster—fine loss of their cance and provisions—the boys reach the Yellow-Leg river. A schooner, faintly visible in the distance, excites their curiosity. Gaspard indulges in morbid thoughts concerning his lost father.

CHAPTER III.—Overestimating his strength, Brock has a serious mishap. He is saved by Flash, his lead dog, who brings Gaspard to the scene The boys reach a country which they believe no white man has visited and prospects for a splendid fur catch are good. They find evidence of the presence of a white man, and at once renect him with the mysterious schooner, Gaspard is convinced the presence of the vessel has some bearing on his father's fate CHAPTER III.-Overestimating his

From daylight to dusk of the days following, the trappers raced against the winter which one day without warning would close in on the valley of the Yellow-Leg, shenthing the coves of the lakes and the dead-waters of the rivers with a lilm of ice, smothering the sun white powdery snow white ened ridges and harrens. In the windbreak of a heavy stand of spruce convenient to the river, they pitched their tent. This, banked high with snow and heated by the folding tent-stove of sheet fron, which Brock's father had given them, would be snug in the bitterest weather. Near by, they trimmed and peeled standing spruce saplings and built a platform cache as a storehouse for food, high above the reach of the dogs, and stray animals which might find it in their absence. And to check prowling wolyerines from climbing the slippery uprights, they circled each spruce with a necklace of inverted fishhooks. Then, serting the net which was visited each morning, the boys began to store lake trout and whitefish. Along the water courses, in the swamps and on the ridges, east, south and west, they searched for game signs, blazing tends on which they would run taplines when the snow came.

Bodily Strength Not of Importance Today

The body of man is not what it used to be. The big-boned, muscular, prognathic, hairy, stupid ape man bas given way to the smooth-skinned, bald. alightly corputent, spindly legged and thin-armed mental dynamo.

For the shurp-nosed, keen-eared savage with quick vision, sensitive touch, and rapid response, substitute the alert brained, heavily bespectacled. false-teatlied director behind a desk.

. From his sanctum lend the tentacles of electric trunsmission and intensia cation of voice hidding to action. For weakened vision modern man prescribes telescopes, periscopes and microscopes as well as optical lenses. For the ears there are radio tubes. microphones and audition devices. For the sense of touch are provided call pers and other Instruments of mensurement more fine than the fingers of Jimmy Valentine.

And though the sense of smell is not alded mechanically, the smells themselves are intensified to the point where they are obnoxious and overpowering. One wonders, indeed, how men tolerate now the olly, irritating, sufficating vapors resulting from the combinations of thousands of motor ear exhausts and the evaporation of the covering of olled roads. Muscles-except those of the heart and internal organs—are a well-nigh unnecessary attribute for modern man; the power of the machines makes brute strength merely a matter for exhibition and dramatic show.-Morris Fishbein in the Yale Review.

Family Keeps Sword

of Patriot Ancestor The great two-handed sword with which Robert the Bruce fought at Bannockburn has been handed down from generation to generation of the Bruce family who possessed Cinck mannan tower. The last survivor of this branch was Mrs. Catherine Bruce. a lady of remarkable character and strong Jacobite convictions, who was convinced that her possession of the royal sword of Scotland gave her the prerogative of conferring the honor of knighthood. She thus honored many visitors to Clackmannan tower, among them Bobble Burns, who visited ber when she was a nonngenarian. As Burns rose to his feet he gollantly kissed the old lady's hand. The Lap tribes in the northernmost part of Norway recently suffered the almost irreparable loss of 50 per cent of their reindeer. As is customary more than 2,000 head of reindeer had gone to their feeding ground on Mageroe Island. The only way of tran sporting this great herd is to make the reindeer awim across the narrow strall separating the Island from the mainland. While the hard was reconfly being driven back by the same route, more than 1,000 reindeer were enught in the awift current of the strait and were carried out to sea where they drowned

William Holmes McGustey was an American educator, born in Washington county, Pa., in 1800; graduated at Washington college, Pa., in 1825, fie was a professor of ancient languages and later of moral ubilisophy in Miami university in 1836-89; president of the Ohio university in 1839-48; professor of moral philosophy in the University of Virginia from 1845 until his death in 1873. He compiled the socalled "Eclectic Series," and other school books.

No Atmosphere on Moon The absence of atmosphere on the moon is proved by the fact that at the time of an eclipse of the sun the moon's limb is perfectly dark and sharp, with no apparent distortion of the sun due to refraction. Similarly, when a star is occulted by the moon it disappears suddenly and not some what gradually as it would it its light were being more and more extinguished by an atmosphere. # Did You Ever Stop to Think

That the man to whom your letter is going may be a splendid judge of what is good and correct in printing?

If your printed matter is poorly gotten up with obsolete type faces, printed with a slur, the ink unsuitable, and the stock inferior, the impression created may offset the effect of an otherwise good letter.

Printing is the smallest item of expense entering into your business and the difference between good printing and poor printing is so small that it is the poorest economy to use any but the best.

The best does not mean the most expensive—but the hest suited to your business printing in which good type selection and harmony is used, good press work and the artist's touch that lifts it from the noticeably common to the pleasingly good.

Let us call and talk over your printing needs with you. Printing is our business and it is our business to know it.
